

Ge 193. "Venus" (1-2-0), 3 units. A seminar-style course focusing on recent and seminal papers, and featuring talks, about Venus scientific research across multiple disciplines. Topics include tectonics, geochemistry, habitability, atmospheric science, and technology. The course will meet once a week and consist of a series of talks, complimented with relevant papers for discussion.
Instructor: Jackson.

Meeting day: Wednesdays

Time: 3:00-4:30pm

Location: 162 South Mudd